LOVE AND MONEY

CONVERSATIONS TO HAVE BEFORE YOU GET MARRIED

a CPA Canada book by WALLACE M. HOWICK

Few of the millions of poems and songs about love and marriage speak of financial matters. Or, if they do, the tone isn't serious. But while love and marriage may go together like a horse and carriage, a happy and healthy marriage relies on some pretty basic grown-up conversations that most adults prefer to avoid. "I love you, honey, should we share a chequing account?" just doesn't have that delightful romantic ring. But it's one of the conversations necessary to build an enduring and successful relationship. In Love and Money, Wallace Howick provides the necessary tools to have the discussions that will give any relationship a solid financial basis.

Wallace M. Howick, FCPA, FCA, MBA is a Chartered Professional Accountant with over thirty years of experience providing advice to a wide range of clients, including: high net worth entrepreneurs and executives, specialized and full-service financial houses, international services firms, and international manufacturers and distributors. He lives in Oakville, Ontario with his wife. Love and Money is his first book.

RESTORING DEMOCRACY IN AN AGE OF POPULISTS AND PESTILENCE

non-fiction by JONATHAN MANTHORPE

From the author of the Globe and Mail bestseller, Claws of the Panda, comes a book quite literally for our times. Restoring Democracy in an Age of Populists and Pestilence is a thoughtful account of how we can save democracies from the despots and populists who provide easy answers to complicated situations, dumbing political discourse down to sandbox antics.

Manthorpe argues that democracy is more resilient than it appears, and is capable of overcoming the attacks from within and without that have sapped its vigour since the end of the Cold War. He begins with a description of the events of 1989, one of the seminal years in modern history. This saw the end of the Cold War, and the apparent conclusive victory of democracy and its civic values.

But the view of these changes as a triumph of democracy — as summed up in Francis Fukuyama's essay "The End of History" — was short-lived. Russia, shorn of its Soviet empire, and the Chinese Communist Party, re-examining its survival after the Tiananmen Square Massacre, began devising ways to counter-attack the West's triumphalism and these met with considerable success.

Internal pressures and contradictions — wealth disparity being chief among them — threaten the survival of many democratic systems. Abandoned industrial workers turn to the repeated platitudes designed to appeal to those left behind without actually offering them the ways and means to catch up. Immigrants, refugees, and the reformist fixations of isolated liberal elites have provided ammunition for would-be despots.

Adding to the pressures building on the political norms of our democracies, the COVID-19 pandemic has brought economic and social stand-still for which no country is prepared.

Jonathan Manthorpe is the author of four books on international relations, politics, and history. He has been a foreign correspondent and international affairs columnist for nearly forty years. He was the foreign correspondent in Asia, Africa, and Europe for Southam News; the European Bureau Chief for the Toronto Star; and the national political reporter for The Globe and Mail. In 1981 and 1982, he was an advisor in London to Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau on the patriation of the Canadian constitution. His last book, Claws of the Panda, is one of the Globe and Mail Top 100 Books of 2019 and is shortlisted for the Hubert Evans Non-Fiction Award. For the last few years, he has been based in Victoria, British Columbia.

NOVEMBER RAIN

A PARADISE CAFÉ MYSTERY
by MAUREEN JENNINGS

Charlotte's boss at T. Gilmore and Associates takes off on a mysterious trip to Europe, leaving Charlotte in charge of the detective agency. Mrs. Jessop hires the newly promoted Private Investigator to inquire into the untimely death of her son, a veteran injured in the Great War. The police ruled it a suicide, but Mrs. Jessop doesn't agree and wants Charlotte to find out what really happened.

Then Charlotte is hired to infiltrate a small women's wear manufacturer to uncover communist agitators. When the factory supervisor is murdered on the job just as Charlotte starts to look into it, she gets seconded to the police to help find out what happened.

The November clouds darken and Charlotte is left to struggle to solve two mysteries at the same time — until they intersect. Add an aging grandfather, an absent boyfriend, and a mad scheme to mount a controversial play at the Paradise Café and Charlotte has her hands full.

Life Without Death

Peter Unwin

TP • 5.5" x 8" • $21.00

WRITTEN IN STONE

a novel by PETER UNWIN

Paul Prescott's desire to catalogue and comprehend the Aboriginal rock paintings of the Canadian Shield is told through the eyes of the woman he loves, and who, for her own reasons, accompanies him on his travels to the deep north. Her journeys with her husband, and then alone, returning to the north shore of Lake Superior to commend his ashes to the water, draw her deeper into a history that, while foreign to them both, seems to offer a meaningful alternative to a world that has gone wrong.

Peter Unwin turns his unique talents to a story that lies at the heart of this country and to the crucial issue of our times. Written in Stone maps the exhilarating and ultimately tragic consequences of one man's commitment to the land of his birth, a land whose deep and unwritten past is outside the reach of his understanding. Written in Stone goes beyond the surface acknowledgments of settler impacts and exists on the border of two solitudes, where the known and unknown cannot be separated, where mythology and reality are one, and where an old and inaccessible knowledge holds the means to a possible reconciliation.

Peter Unwin is the author of eight previous books, including his novel Searching for Petronius Totem as well as many short stories, essays, and poems. His short story collection Life Without Death was shortlisted for the 2014 Trillium Book Award and his poetry collection When We Were Old was a finalist for the Relit Awards. He is currently completing a PhD in the Humanities at York University.

THE DETECTIVE AND THE SPY

a mystery by ANGELA MISRI

It's taken years, but Portia Adams has found an outlet for her obsessive curiosity as the consulting detective of 221B Baker Street, like her grandfathers before her. Scotland Yard taps her for their trickiest crimes, she's in her last year of law school and, finally, things are heating up between Portia and her downstairs tenant, Constable Brian Dawes. But a bomb planted at a crime scene destroys everything she has fought so hard to establish.

She wakes up to a world she can't communicate with, the sounds around her dulled and unintelligible and the words that come out of her mouth garbled and incomprehensible. Brian was hurt in other ways, the burns on his hands and arms causing pain that makes him turn to the opium dens Sherlock Holmes was also known to frequent.

The bomber continues to wreak havoc all over London, but no one will work with Portia — everyone from her allies at the Yard to the public itself dismisses the young detective as damaged goods. To make matters worse, a rabid spymaster at MI6 believes she's involved in the bombings and Portia finds herself on the run, having to relearn her skills in a deafeningly silent world.

Angela Misri is the author of the Portia Adams Adventures series, several essays on Sherlock Holmes, and the middle-grade novel Pickles vs. the Zombies. As a former CBC Radio digital manager and the Digital Director at The Walrus, Misri is never offline (although she prefers to write long form in notebooks). She plays MMORPGs (massively multiplayer online role-playing games), speaks several web languages, and owns too many comic books. Misri currently lives in Toronto, Ontario.

AFTERMATH

A FIREFIGHTER'S LIFE

a memoir by BRYAN RATUSHNIAK

Who doesn't run to the window when a fire truck rushes by? Bryan Ratushniak spent a thirty-two-year career working on the busiest fire trucks in Canada and has detailed his adventures in this insightful memoir.

The book details the emotional damage inflicted by the horrors of the job and how the author came out the other side, more-or-less in one piece. Ratushniak shares the ups and downs of balancing home and professional life while trying to hold on to his sanity.

Aftermath: A Firefighter's Life is filled with candid, humorous, tragic, and hopeful stories from behind the "big red doors."

Originally from Geraldton, Ontario, Bryan Ratushniak moved to Toronto as a young man to become a firefighter. He was promoted to the rank of Firefighter Captain and received three letters of commendation for rescues made on the job. As a firefighter, he started competing as a bodybuilder, winning Canadian Drug Free Athlete of the Year 2004 and Natural Mr. Canada 2005. He was October for the 1999 Toronto Firefighters Calendar, published in support of the Princess Margaret Hospital. Since retiring, he has worked in the film industry as a screenwriter and producer. He has two adult sons and lives in Toronto with his wife and dog.

THE GOOD SON

a novel by CAROLYN HUIZINGA MILLS

Zoe Emmerson has a secret, one she's kept for years. Her quiet world is shaken when her past finally catches up with her: the investigation into the murder of a six-year-old neighbour is reopened thirty years after the fact, threatening to destroy her and everyone she's fought so hard to protect.

She was just a child when it happened, scared and confused, and she's never been entirely sure what she saw. But she kept the shadow of her brother's suspected involvement in the murder from the police, and the knowledge that she withheld a crucial piece of information haunts her. The weight of the secret has tethered Zoe to a constrained and guilt-ridden existence — one that leaves little room for dreams or love. Or forgiveness.

As the past collides with the present, Zoe is forced to face the most difficult truth, and reconcile the complexities of sibling relationships, family loyalties, and how our perception of events shapes the people we become.

Carolyn Huizinga Mills is a daredevil elementary school teacher with a passion for writing, travelling, and jumping (safely) from towering heights. She's been skydiving, bungee jumping, and rap jumping. In her down time, she loves being off the grid in picturesque and remote settings. The Good Son is her first novel, but she published her first picture book, The Little Boy Who Lived Down the Drain, in 2017. Mills currently lives in Breslau, ON.

THE REAL COST OF BABIES

a CPA Canada book by LISA VAN DE GEYNwith VIVIAN LEUNG

You've taken the pregnancy tests, made the big announcement, and perhaps even caught a glimpse of your baby on a sonogram. Congratulations!

Everyone knows that it costs money to have a baby, but just how much money? While the experts don't agree on one specific amount, they do agree that raising kids costs a pretty penny. The good news is that there are tradeoffs expectant and new parents can make to their lifestyles to make having a baby — and the price tag attached — more manageable.

In The Real Cost of Babies, writers Lisa van de Geyn and Vivian Leung lean on financial experts to help parents reduce their expenses and prepare for the financial consequences of the new additions to their families. This guide includes everything they need to know, from the benefits of setting up a registered education savings plan to the tax implications of parental leave, from the government support available to advice on getting on employment insurance. The approach to budgeting and financial tips and tricks will help new parents work through the financial implications so they can embrace the sheer excitement of pregnancy knowing they are ready and equipped to cope with the consequences to their bank account.

Lisa van de Geyn is a National Magazine Award-, COPA-, and FOLIO Award-winning journalist, an experienced editor, writer, editorial packager, and nearly-twenty-year veteran of the Canadian magazine industry. After graduating from Ryerson University's School of Journalism in 2002, she has held positions on staff at House & Home, Chatelaine, and Today's Parent. She has spent the last decade as a contributing senior editor and/or feature writer for dozens of the country's top consumer and professional publications.

Vivian Leung, CPA, CA, is currently Senior Principal of Taxation at CPA Canada. Prior to this role, she was Program Director for Tax Education where she was responsible for CPA Canada income tax education, creating or redesigning tax courses and programs, and overseeing their delivery. Leung also works to advance the tax aspects of CPA Canada's Lifelong Learning initiative for members. Vivian joined CPA Canada from Ernst & Young (E&Y), where she managed the editorial review and ensured the technical accuracy of income tax titles in CPA Canada's Tax Reference Series and contributed to other CPA Canada and E&Y publications.

CHASING PAINTED HORSES

a novel by DREW HAYDEN TAYLOR

Nominated for the Forest of Reading Evergreen Award

“Readers will appreciate the touching depiction of family and friendship dynamics in childhood, and the novel’s suffusion with empathy makes it a worthwhile read.” — Quill & Quire

“Every page was turned with growing wonder. I will be thinking about this novel for years to come.” — Richard Van Camp, author of Moccasin Square Gardens

When Ralph Thomas comes across graffiti of a horse in an alleyway in the early hours of the morning, he is stopped in his tracks. He recognizes this horse. A half-asleep Indigenous homeless man sees Ralph’s reaction to the horse and calls out to him. Over the course of a morning’s worth of hot coffee on a bitterly cold day, Ralph and the homeless man talk and Ralph remembers a troubling moment from his childhood when an odd little girl, Danielle, drew the most beautiful and intriguing horse on his mother’s Everything Wall, winning the competition set up for children on the Otter Lake Reserve.

Ralph has lived with many questions that arose from his eleventh winter. What did the horse mean — to him, his sister, his best friend, and, most importantly, the girl who drew it? These questions have never left him.

Drew Hayden Taylor has done many things, most of which he is proud. An Ojibway from the Curve Lake First Nation in Ontario, he has worn many hats in his literary career, from performing stand-up comedy at the Kennedy Center in Washington, D.C., to being Artistic Director of Canada’s premier Native theatre company, Native Earth Performing Arts. He has been an award-winning playwright (with over seventy productions of his work), a journalist/columnist (appearing regularly in several Canadian newspapers and magazines), short-story writer, novelist, television scriptwriter, and has worked on over seventeen documentaries exploring the Native experience. Most notably, he wrote and directed Redskins, Tricksters and Puppy Stew, a documentary on Native humour for the National Film Board of Canada.

BIO005000 BIOGRAPHY & AUTOBIOGRAPHY / Entertainment & Performing Arts

For a girl born in Nanaimo in the 1930s, Prudence Emery has had quite the life. Best known for her years as a film publicist — working with, to name but a few, David Cronenberg, Jodie Foster, Beau Bridges, Rob Lowe, Peter O'Toole, Jennifer Lopez, and Matt Damon — she was previously a press secretary for the Savoy Hotel in London in the 1960s. While at the Savoy, she saw the greats of earlier years, such as Noël Coward, and the bright young stars of the day, including Petula Clark.

Delightfully written, this very funny memoir is a testament to a life well-lived and an encouragement to all, young and old, to get out, defy expectations, and have a rip-roaring good time.

CLAWS OF THE PANDA

non-fiction by JONATHAN MANTHORPE*National Bestseller

Shortlisted for the Hubert Evans Non-Fiction Prize

“Veteran journalist Jonathan Manthorpe explains in his remarkable new book, Claws of the Panda, the Chinese Communist Party has spent decades quietly infiltrating Canada in order to acquire influence over economic and political decision-making. It succeeded in conveying an image of China as a trustworthy partner rather than a demanding superpower, an image that became all the more attractive after Donald Trump was elected as President of the United States. But now, after the arbitrary detentions of Michael Spavor and Michael Kovrig ... Canada is in a position to reassess the risks of collaboration with China.”

— Michael Byers, The Globe and Mail

Claws of the Panda tells the story of Ottawa's failure to construct a workable policy towards the People's Republic of China, and its failure to recognize and confront the efforts by the Chinese Communist Party to exert undue influence in Canadian affairs. Jonathan Manthorpe provides a detailed description of the CCP's campaign to embed agents of influence in Canadian business, politics, media, and academia. The book traces the evolution of the Canada-China relationship for the past 150 years, revealing how Canadian leaders have constantly misjudged the reality and potential of the relationship, while more recently the CCP and its agents have benefited from Canadian naiveté.

Jonathan Manthorpe is the author of three books on international relations, politics, and history. He has been a foreign correspondent and international affairs columnist for nearly forty years. He was the foreign correspondent in Asia, Africa, and Europe for Southam News, the European Bureau Chief for the Toronto Star, and the national political reporter for The Globe and Mail. In 1981 and 1982 he was an advisor in London to Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau on the patriation of the Canadian constitution. For the last few years he has been based in Victoria, British Columbia.

Just when you think you have nothing left to lose, they come for your dreams.

In a future world ravaged by global warming, people have lost the ability to dream, and the dreamlessness has led to widespread madness. The only people still able to dream are North America's indigenous population, and it is their marrow that holds the cure for the rest of the world. But getting the marrow, and dreams, means death for the unwilling donors. Driven to flight, a fifteen-year-old and his companions struggle for survival, attempt to reunite with loved ones, and take refuge from the "recruiters" who seek them out to bring them to the marrow-stealing "factories."

THE ART OF BEING LEWIS

a novel by DANIEL GOODWIN

Shortlisted for the Nancy Richler Memorial Prize
Longlisted for the Leacock Memorial Medal

"A literary page-turner with profound insight into the stories we make our own." — Atlantic Books Today

"The novel's cast of characters is sketched with care, down to the cut of their suit, the confidence expressed in their stance, the set of their expression in an awkward social setting. In its attention to detail The Art of Being Lewis is a contemporary version of the novel of manners by Jane Austen or George Eliot." — The Canadian Jewish News

Between indecent exposure and intellectual property theft, it's tough being Lewis this year.

East Coast architect Lewis Morton thought he had it all: loving wife and children, dream job, and a house that meets his exacting architectural standards. But after his beloved mentor dies unexpectedly and Lewis gets pulled into a lawsuit that threatens to destroy his career and possibly his life, the respectable identity he has carefully constructed for himself after fleeing his Jewish childhood in Montreal begins to disintegrate. In trying to build his new future he must first come to terms with his past. Who is Lewis Morton, and who will he choose to become?

Daniel Goodwin was born in Montreal and educated at McGill. He is the author of one previous novel, Sons and Fathers, and a poetry collection, Catulus's Soldiers, which won a 2016 Vine Award for Canadian Jewish Literature. He lives in Ottawa with his wife Kara and their children.

HEAT WAVE

A PARADISE CAFÉ MYSTERY
by MAUREEN JENNINGS

Shortlisted for the Bloody Words Light Mystery Award

“In contemporary fiction, the millennial-aged single woman is often a character through whom we identify our own paucity and miscalculations: the lack of children, money, stability or foresight providing a plot in which to flail. What a relief it is then to spend time with a protagonist who isn’t defined by the traditions she rejects — in the summer of 1936, no less.”
— The Globe and Mail

It’s July 1936, and Charlotte Frayne is the junior associate in a two-person private investigation firm, owned by T. Gilmore. An anti-Semitic hate letter is delivered to Gilmore, and a veteran of the First World War requests the firm’s assistance in uncovering what he believes is systematic embezzlement of the Paradise Café, which he owns and operates with three other men, all of whom were prisoners of war. The two events, although seemingly unrelated, come together in this wonderful novel that brings to life characters who are as real to the reader as those of the Murdoch series. Detective Jack Murdoch, son of the Murdoch Mysteries protagonist, features in the book.

Anti-Semitism and murder in Toronto “the good” in the depths of the Great Depression provide a great historical background for this murder mystery that serves, as all Maureen Jennings books do, as a canvas for fascinating character studies.

Maureen Jennings immigrated to Canada from the UK as a teenager. She is the author of the Murdoch Mysteries series, which has been adapted into a TV series. The series is now into its thirteenth season. Before becoming a full-time writer, Maureen was a psychotherapist. She currently lives in Toronto with her husband Iden Ford and their dog, Murdoch.

OCULUM

a middle-grade novel by PHILIPPA DOWDING

Shortlisted for the Forest of Reading Silver Birch Award
Shortlisted for the SYRCA Diamond Willow Award

“This is a thoughtful, environmental re-working of The Tempest and Brave New World intended to challenge today’s youth.” — Resource Links

“Well-written and an imaginative description of a future world struggling to survive, Oculum ends on a positive note, and the book should appeal to both boys and girls in search of adventure.” 1/2/4 — CM Magazine

“... its rich world-building and determined characters give it an originality that sets it apart from similar stories.” — Quill & Quire

“I’m Mann, just Mann.”

The world is slowly recovering after environmental collapse, and the children of the automated, domed city of Oculum have begun to awaken. Miranda, William, and the 998 other children wake to tend the fruit trees and gardens behind the thick, opaque walls of their world. Some speak quietly of Outside, which is forbidden. Until William finds a door ...

The children outside the dome of Oculum — Mann, Cranker and others raised by Grannie — live amongst the rubble of the old destroyed city. They live with hunger, hard work, and stories about a time before the fall, of buggies without horses, light without fire ... and magical fruit called “peaches.” But it must be lies, until one day Mann and Cranker get close enough to the ancient dome to find ... a door ...

Philippa Dowding has won many awards and has had poetry and short fiction published in journals across Canada. Her children’s books have been nominated for numerous literary awards in Canada, the US, and Europe, including the SYRCA Diamond Willow, OLA Silver Birch, OLA Red Maple, and Hackmatack awards. In 2017, she won the OLA Silver Birch Express Honour Book award for Myles and the Monster Outside.

PICKLES VS. THE ZOMBIES

a middle-grade novel by ANGELA MISRI

Shortlisted for the Hackmatack Children's Choice Award

Nominated for the MYRCA Sundogs Award

"A rousing odyssey." — Kirkus Reviews

"Pickles and her gang are endlessly engaging, possessing ingenuity, kindness, courage, and awesome sparks of humour." — Quill & Quire

"Pickles vs. the Zombies is a fun read that takes a typical zombie narrative but tells it from the perspective of the pets left behind." — Canadian Review of Materials, /5

The comfortable life of Pickles, the calico housecat, is turned upside down when humans succumb to a zombie apocalypse. She doesn't know where her "pet" — human child Connor — has gone, only that there are zombies everywhere.

Determined to find Connor, Pickles sets off with her cat friends and a streetwise raccoon, exploring a world she has only seen through a window. Fending off human zombies, street cats from the wrong side of the track, and a fearsome gang of chipmunks, Pickles and her crew search for remnants of human society.

Angela Misri is the author of the Portia Adams Adventures series and several essays on Sherlock Holmes. As a former CBC Radio digital manager and the Digital Director at The Walrus, Misri is never offline (although she prefers to write long form in notebooks). She plays MMORPGs (massively multiplayer online role-playing games), speaks several web languages, and owns too many comic books. Misri currently lives in Toronto, Ontario.

We acknowledge this sacred land on which Cormorant Books operates. It has been a site of human activity for 15,000 years. This land is the territory of the Huron-Wendat and Petun First Nations, the Seneca, and most recently, the Mississaugas of the Credit River. The territory was the subject of the Dish With One Spoon Wampum Belt Covenant, an agreement between the Iroquois Confederacy and Confederacy of the Ojibwe and allied nations to peaceably share and care for the resources around the Great Lakes. Today, the meeting place of Toronto is still the home to many Indigenous people from across Turtle Island and we are grateful to have the opportunity to work in the community, on this territory.

We are also mindful of broken covenants and the need to strive to make right with all our relations.
